VOGELZANG VINEYARD

A.V.A. Happy Canyon of Santa Barbara

Vogelzang is situated on a gently sloping bed of well drained, gravelly loam soil with serpentinite. The vineyard is well established and has been carefully pruned, leafed and deficit-irrigated to focus the plant's energy on fruit development. We purchase these grapes from three distinct blocks in the vineyard and farm them on a per acre basis, so that we can control all farming practices, including pruning, shoot thinning, canopy management, yield control, irrigation and harvesting. It bottle single vineyard wines when wines from a particular vineyard express a unique character or sense of "place" and yet are complete wines of balance, harmony and interest.
